ACADEMIC PROGRAM

Values, Technology and Society – Minor

The Humanities Program offers interdisciplinary and international classes in a wide variety of subject areas, from the ethical issues involved in technology, to the cultures of China, Japan, and Spain. Many humanities classes satisfy University general education and breadth requirements.

VALUES, TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIETY MINOR

The purpose of the minor is to increase understanding of how technology shapes and influences modern life. Students develop an increased understanding of the social, environmental, economic and political implications of technology in the twenty-first century. They are able to think critically about the intellectual, moral, and historical issues that technological developments pose for the future of humankind.

The courses in the minor provide an overview of technological issues, with an emphasis on the impacts technology has on organizations and society. Technology's impact on society is examined from a values and public policy perspective. Students are able to tailor their minor program to focus on specific issues through the selection of electives in technology, society, and values areas. The minor is available to students throughout the University regardless of students' technical backgrounds.
