

The Community CENTER at Cal Poly presents the
PRESIDENT'S COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARDS
2007

Each year students, faculty, staff, and community partners are recognized by President Warren J. Baker for their accomplishments in service to the community. If you know someone who has generously given their time and talent to help others, then please take this opportunity to insure they are rewarded for their effort to make a difference.

Nomination Categories

Service Learning:

Eligible recipients: interdisciplinary teams; individual faculty or staff

Nominees in this category should include courses or programs that support Cal Poly's "learn by doing" philosophy. This may include new service learning course offerings as well as new community placement sites. Other contributions may include the development of innovative programs, recruitment of new volunteers, or successful implementation of new activities.

Significant Contribution:

Eligible recipients: interdisciplinary teams; clubs or organizations; individual students; individual faculty or staff; community partners

Nominees in this category should exhibit excellence in identifying a need, creating awareness, providing service not otherwise there or which had lasting impact on a broad community population.

Greek Community Contribution:

Eligible recipients: Greek fraternity or sorority

Nominees in this category should include fraternities and sororities which have contributed outstanding volunteer service (aside from philanthropic activities) to the community of San Luis Obispo County. Nominees must be affiliated with one of the three Greek councils: Interfraternity Council (IFC), Panhellenic, or the Cultural Greek Council. The organization may have been involved in a single event or program or multiple activities worthy of recognition.
