

image. iPhoto has also generated web pages for the larger images (non-thumbnails), allowing for navigation to Previous or Next images with the arrow buttons on the page (not the browser arrows) or return to the main thumbnails page by hitting the Home button on the web page it created.

NOTE: Be sure when you upload these files onto a web server that you upload the entire folder containing all the subfolders. Do not change its structure unless you know what you are doing or the links will be ruined.