

PREMIUM JOB-SEARCHING SERVICES

FREE TO ALL GRADUATE STUDENTS AND ALUMNI

Start building your professional profile now, before you graduate

According to CareerXroads, a consulting firm that specializes in recruiting issues, referrals are the main source of new hires—fellow alumni represent your most effective professional network. With inDegree, you can start building professional connections now to make the most of this network after graduation.

Visit inDegree.com to gain an edge in your job search.

inDegree is the only professional networking and job-placement website that connects graduate students and alumni to employers and universities. inDegree is the only professional networking and job-placement website dedicated to graduate students and alumni:

- > Access over 500,000 job listings posted specifically for graduate degree holders.
- > Post your resume and create an interactive professional profile, apply for jobs, and see who's viewed your profile.
- > Establish a personalized URL and share the link across the web to increase your visibility.
- > Automatically link to classmates and alumni from your graduate programs when you create a profile.
- > Receive real-time updates on your connections, and be notified when connections update their profiles or connect with someone in your network.
- > Search personal connections and alumni networks across many dimensions including employment information.