The Architecture Department is looking for innovative, energetic and visionary colleagues to join our faculty as full-time, tenure track, Asst/Assoc Professor(s) or full-time lecturers for the 2005-06 academic year beginning September 12, 2005. Salary, rank, and teaching assignments commensurate with qualifications and experience. Multiple positions available.

Requisition #100434: Assistant/Associate Professor, Tenure Track

Qualifications: Minimum - First professional degree in architecture; master's degree in architecture or allied discipline or DArch; professional experience; architectural license or Ph.D.; and related college level teaching experience. Eligibility for license or Ph.D. is acceptable for appointment, but promotion/tenure is contingent upon completion of the license or degree. Uniquely qualified candidates not meeting all required qualifications but with exceptional: professional knowledge, body of professionally recognized work, or teaching experience will be considered.

Preferred (all applicants) - Evidence of: teaching excellence; scholarship of teaching, integration, application or discovery and/or creative practice or work; and the ability to teach in multiple instructional areas.

Preferred Qualifications for instructional areas:
Beginning Design and Visual Communication - Evidence of ability to: integrate the teaching of basic design concepts and visual communication; and teach digital media, freehand sketching, perspective and modeling.

Design - Evidence of ability to teach comprehensive architectural design at all levels and facilitate the integration of design with practice, history/theory and/or environmental systems.

Practice - Evidence of: knowledge of emerging forms of practice; experience with a range of materials and construction methods; the ability to teach large lectures and coordinate associated activities; and experience integrating practice with design and environmental systems.

Requisition #100433: Full Time Lecturers

Qualifications: First professional degree in architecture; architectural license; professional experience; and related college level teaching experience or fulfill a specific departmental instructional need in the area for which they apply. Eligibility for license acceptable for appointment, but advancement is contingent upon attaining license. Uniquely qualified candidates not meeting all required qualifications but demonstrating an exceptional ability to meet instructional needs will be considered.

Preferred (all applicants): Evidence of ability to teach in multiple instructional areas.

Preferred Qualifications for instructional areas:
Beginning Design and Visual Communication - Evidence of ability to: integrate the teaching of basic design concepts and visual communication; and teach digital media, freehand sketching, perspective and modeling.

Design - Evidence of ability to teach comprehensive architectural design at all levels and facilitate the integration of design with practice, history/theory or environmental systems.

Practice - Evidence of: knowledge of emerging forms of practice; experience with a range of materials and construction methods; the ability to teach large lectures and coordinate associated activities; and experience integrating practice with design and environmental systems.

How to Apply:
Complete the online faculty application by visiting www.calpolyjobs.org, and then apply to one or both of the above requisitions. In addition, submit all of the following application materials prior to the closing date: 1) curriculum vitae; 2) a statement of intent including the candidate’s teaching, scholarly and professional interests; and 3) evidence of teaching, scholarship or creative practice or work relevant to position(s) in 8.5”x11” format. Electronic submissions of this material are not accepted. Mail the additional materials to the address above.

Candidates selected for interview will be required to provide three letters of recommendation. Transcripts confirming degrees are required prior to appointment.

Deadline for receipt of all application materials: January 15, 2005.

Cal Poly is strongly committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications and nominations of all qualified individuals. EEO.