The Latinx/e Center for Academic Success and Achievement, or La CASA, will host a Día de los Muertos, or Day of the Dead, celebration at the UU Plaza on Wednesday, Nov. 1. The holiday is observed by Mexican communities to honor the memories of loved ones.

Traditional celebrations include the construction of altars called ofrendas, where families leave marigolds and favorite foods for the departed; share memories and visit graves of loved ones; and give gifts, including the iconic decorated sugar skulls. La CASA's event will transform the plaza into a meticulously crafted ofrenda by students as well as the broader campus community. Organizers promise it will be more than "just an event; it's a communal gathering where we come together to celebrate life, remember those no longer with us and cherish the traditions that bind us," La CASA announced. Events include:

- Cafecito con Pan Dulce, 9 a.m. to noon, Science Building (No. 52), Room E-22. Attendees can decorate sugar skulls.

- A film and discussion, 3-6 p.m., Science Building (No. 52), Room E-22. A presentation of the history and importance of Day of the Dead will follow the screening.

- Building the ofrenda, 6:30 p.m., UU Plaza. The plaza will come alive at 7 p.m. with battery-powered tea lights. The marigold petals will guide home spirits while the candles flicker in remembrance.

CAFES is hosting an open house honoring Dean

Andrew Thulin's 25 years of service to Cal Poly on Friday, Nov. 3, from 4 to 7 p.m. at the JUSTIN and J. LOHR Center for Wine and Viticulture. Dean Thulin, an alumnus, will retire from Cal Poly at the end of the year. He has led the college for the 10 years and also served during his tenure as head of the Animal Science Department for 15 years. He worked to ensure the college is continuously poised to prepare future generations of students in sustainable agriculture practices that will build long-term food safety and security, environmental sustainability and climate-smart agricultural systems.

Rite Aid pharmacy will host a daylong clinic Friday,

Nov. 3, with COVID-19 and flu vaccines, as well as additional vaccination offerings. It will be in the ASI Recreation Center (No. 43), Room 107, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. It is open to students, employees and community members. Most insurances are accepted, and cash payment is also available. Vaccine Consent Forms are available to download in English and Spanish. Forms will also be available at the clinics. For additional information and the full list of available vaccinations, at Campus Health and Wellbeing Vaccinations. The clinic is the last one scheduled for the fall quarter.

The cross country program brought out the brooms

for the second straight year, sweeping the men's and women's team titles at the Big West Championships on Oct. 27 at Blacklake Golf Resort in Nipomo. It marks the seventh time in program history that the Mustangs have swept the team titles and the second 2012-13 that they've done it in consecutive years. The men throttled the competition en route to their 19th conference title, edging runner-up UC Santa Barbara by 60 points — the second largest margin in Big West Championship history. The Cal Poly women were just as impressive, running an exceptional final kilometer to overtake UC Davis and claim a ninth Big West title and third in five meets. Trailing the Aggies by 12 points entering the last half-mile of the 6K race, juniors Hana Catsimanes and Carissa Buchholz each moved up multiple spots to help the Mustangs soar past UC Davis and repeat as conference champs.

Campus Entertainment by Students ...
