The annual poinsettia sale, with thousands of plants and dozens of varieties and colors, will be held Saturday, Dec. 9, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Poly Plant Shop. The flowering holiday plants are grown by the more than 20 students who work in the Plant Sciences Department's greenhouses. This year's poinsettia project offers plants in shades of red, white, pink and a plethora of other colors. Sizes range from small plants in four-inch pots to large poinsettias reaching three feet high in 14-inch pots. Prices range from $10 to $100. The sale also features student-made wreaths, centerpieces, succulents, ornaments and gifts. be available for purchase.

Public Safety reminds employees to lock offices, labs and other facilities before leaving for winter break. Theft and crimes of opportunity remain the most prevalent during breaks and times when the campus is not highly populated. Remember to lock doors, shut blinds and take any personal and valuable items home or store them in a secured, out-of-sight area.

The Civic Ballet of San Luis Obispo presents its annual presentation of "The Nutcracker" Friday, Dec. 8, through Sunday, Dec. 10, in Harold Miossi Hall. Lori Lee Silvaggio's "The Nutcracker" is filled with all the pageantry, magic and wonder that have made this one of the most enduring holiday traditions around the globe. Featuring OperaSLO Grand Orchestra, sterling production values and San Luis Obispo County's finest dancers, this is a ballet experience not to be missed. This event has a student discount available.
