Student-Run Marketing Course: Rodeo Athletes Land NIL Deal with Boot Barn

Three top members of Cal Poly's rodeo team have partnered with national brand Boot Barn for promotional opportunities thanks to the Athlete Lab, a business course that acts as a mini-marketing agency for student athletes. The partnership marks the first time the Athlete Lab has worked with rodeo students since lecturer Randy Rovegno launched the program in the fall of 2023.

Another Corpse Flower Blooms on Campus

If you walked into the lowland rainforest section of the Cal Poly Plant Conservatory on Monday, your nostrils were greeted with a rare treat: the smell of roadkill and death, the trademark stench of the corpse flower. "It hits the back of your throat. There's a depth to it that's fascinating," said conservatory curator Gage Willey, as he grinned and pointed out the fading bloom on Tuesday. The flower that bloomed in the conservatory this week wasn't the massive titan arum — which bloomed at Cal Poly for three summers in a row — but a smaller cousin, the Amorphophallus hewittii. 1144 Chorro St.: Work on New Downtown Location Gets Underway

The Cal Poly Center for Innovation & Entrepreneurship (CIE) and the Cal Poly Mustang Shop will soon have a new home. Tenant improvements on the new 1144 Chorro St. location are underway to create an expanded space for the two university programs. Cal Poly Partners' plans for the former Copeland Sports location will help revitalize the long-vacant building, all while expanding the university's role in developing innovators and entrepreneurs in the HotHouse and furthering regional economic development. Following tenant improvements, the building is scheduled to open in Winter 2026. Read More: calpolypartners.org/
