Cal Poly Float Receives Sweepstakes Award at 2026 Rose Parade®

Cal Poly universities' "Jungle Jumpstart" rainforest float that showed nature and technology working together to create a better world received the Sweepstakes Award at the 137th Rose Parade® held on a rainy New Year's Day. The prestigious honor — a first in the schools' nearly eight decades in the parade — honors the most beautiful float overall and is typically won by larger, commercially built floats or major organizations, not by self-built entries that include the California State University campuses. The universities' names will be engraved on the permanent award displayed at the Tournament House in Pasadena.

Call for Participation: University Research Advisory Committee

Cal Poly's recent assessment of research administration identified opportunities to strengthen processes and support research activity across the university. To help guide this work, Cal Poly is establishing a new University Research Advisory Committee that will provide ongoing input as improvements are developed and implemented. Interested in serving? Please complete the interest form by Friday, Jan. 9.

Jan Douglass and Jill Shepard Retire

Jan Douglass, who has dedicated 17 years to Cal Poly's Payment Services, and Jill Shepard, who has dedicated 9 years to the department, retired in December. Both are known across campus for their kindness, courtesy and consistently helpful support — always offered with a smile. They will be deeply missed by colleagues and friends throughout the university.

Retirement Celebration for Electrical Engineering Faculty

Celebrate the retirements of three electrical engineering faculty members — Ahmad Nafisi, John Saghri and John Penvenne — on Wednesday, Jan. 14, 2026, from 4–7 p.m. in the Building 20A lobby. Nafisi joined the department in 1983 and is widely recognized for his leadership in power engineering education. Saghri devoted decades to hands-on engineering education, curriculum development and student mentorship in electrical and computer engineering. Penvenne began working with Cal Poly in 2006 as an engineer for the Center for Coastal Marine Sciences, then joined the faculty in 2014.

Alcohol Service Requests Now in Events Request Form

As of Jan. 5, the previous electronic workflow for alcohol service requests has been discontinued. ASRs are now part of the events request form. All events involving alcohol service must still receive approval as required by Campus Activities Planning. Any ASRs that lacked final approval by Jan. 5 must be resubmitted using the new events request form.
