Cal Poly Alumna Accepted into GLOBE Master's Program

Alexa Cango Ruiz (Environmental Management and Protection, '25) has been accepted into the Erasmus Mundus Joint Master in Global Change Ecology and Biodiversity Management, a competitive two-year international graduate program. Cango Ruiz earned a B.S. in Environmental Management and Protection with minors in biology and Indigenous studies in natural resources and the environment. Since graduating, she has worked as a research assistant at Grassy Bar Oyster Co. She will begin the 2026–28 program in Madrid, Spain, before studying in the United Kingdom, Mexico and Portugal. Cango Ruiz is the third Cal Poly student accepted into GLOBE in two years.

New Student Success Mini-Grants Available

Culture and Institutional Excellence is excited to launch the Cal Poly Student Success Mini-Grant Program. Open to faculty, staff, students, departments and colleges across the San Luis Obispo and Solano campuses, the program provides funding to develop, strengthen or expand initiatives that advance student success. Grounded in the CSU Student Success Framework, mini-grants support innovative, student-centered approaches that turn Cal Poly's commitment to student success into action. Proposed projects should support strategies that align with Cal Poly's progress toward becoming a Hispanic-Serving Institution, advance Black Student Success Initiatives, implement the CSU Student Success Framework and increase collaborations across the university.

New Interfaith Resources Webpage

Culture and Institutional Excellence has launched an Interfaith Resources webpage to promote religious literacy across the university community. The page helps faculty, staff and students consider religious holidays and observances when planning the academic year. This webpage includes a downloadable interfaith calendar featuring key holidays observed across a range of faith and religious traditions. It also provides guidance on religious dietary practices and accommodations, along with information for students and faculty at both the San Luis Obispo and Solano campuses on how to request religious accommodations.
