Golden Bear Retirement Marks the End of an Era at Cal Poly Maritime Academy

For more than three decades, Training Ship Golden Bear carried cadets around the world during Summer Sea Term, providing the hands-on experience that prepares students for careers in the maritime industry and beyond. Cal Poly Maritime Academy is preparing for one of the most significant transitions in its history, starting this fall, when the Training Ship Golden Bear is transferred back to the U.S. Maritime Administration (MARAD) for eventual decommissioning as the academy begins its transition to Golden State. The new, purpose-built training ship will provide the next generation of academy students with an advanced maritime learning environment.

Register for Cal Poly AI Day on Oct. 22

Join us for AI Day from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 22, at the Swanson Center of Effort Conference Hall. Open to faculty, staff, students, alumni, industry partners and community members, the event will showcase AI in practice through Cal Poly's Learn by Doing approach. Highlights include faculty and student innovation, the AI immersion lab, a provost-hosted lunch with Zach Justus, the AI Factory digital ribbon-cutting and early adopter showcase and the Noyce Distinguished Speaker Series, featuring NVIDIA's Charlie Wuischpard. A livestream of select sessions will be available; details will be added to the AI Day website.

October is Dating Violence Action Month

October is upon us, which means it's Dating Violence Action Month. This year marks 30 years of Safer's student-driven movement to end gender- and power-based violence at Cal Poly, and Safer's 2026 theme is "Your Wings Already Exist: Choose Your Direction." Whether it's wearing purple on Purple Thursday on Oct. 15 to raise awareness, attending the "Category is... Ghouls Night Out" performance with Cal Poly Drag Club on Oct. 29 or supporting one of the Solano Campus events, we hope you'll join Safer in cultivating healthy relationships that help you and those you care about thrive.

October is National Cybersecurity Awareness Month

The choices you make every day help protect Cal Poly's information, research and technology resources. Throughout October, the Information Security Office will share practical tips to help you recognize common threats, protect sensitive information and stay safer online. Start by reviewing the Cal Poly Information Security Policy, and learn from cybersecurity experts across the CSU and industry through this month's CSU Cybersecurity Awareness Month webinars.

Great Grads 2027 Nominations Now Open

Do you know a graduating student whose Cal Poly experience is helping address a state, national or global challenge? University Communications and Marketing is seeking nominations for its 2027 Great Grads commencement stories, highlighting seven students, one from each college and the Maritime Academy, who will graduate in May 2027. This year's theme, "The Whole Picture," features students who connect disciplines, research, partnerships or sectors to make an impact. Nominations are open through Nov. 13. Please nominate as many students as you would like, using a separate form for each nomination.

Last Week to Submit Honorary Degree Nominees

Nominations are due this Friday, Oct. 9, for honorary degree recipients to be awarded at Cal Poly's May 2027 commencement ceremonies. Nominations are invited from both the San Luis Obispo and Solano campuses, reflecting the full breadth of our university community. Recipients are selected to recognize inspirational character, excellence and extraordinary achievement, or meritorious service to the CSU, California, the nation or humanity at large. Please see the CSU Policy for Awarding Honorary Degrees for the full criteria. Please submit your nominations by 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 9.

CSU's Got Talent: Mental Health Awareness in Action

Join CSU's Got Talent on Oct. 14 from 10 to 11 a.m. for a virtual session that provides practical guidance for recognizing signs of distress and responding with care, clarity and appropriate support. Participants will learn how to identify behavioral, emotional and situational indicators that someone may be struggling; engage in supportive conversations; reduce stigma; and connect individuals to relevant resources. The session emphasizes empathy, boundaries and timely referral as key elements of creating a safer and more responsive community.
